Both beautiful and functional, Chilewich placemats enhance dining experiences at the world's finest restaurants.

Now, nearly twenty years after introducing the textiles that transformed table-setting, Chilewich has developed a design solution for the “back of house.”

In professional kitchens, passes are typically covered with paper or tablecloths attached with tape, creating a clean, stable surface for plating and pick-up.

Seeking a more thoughtful solution to the daily task of preparing the pass, chef Daniel Humm of Eleven Madison Park came to Chilewich.
